IN MEMORIAM

ELSA HUTCHISON

In Elsa Hutchison's death on January 8th, the Island lost one who had lived on Bernera since 1976: her home, with Irene, being 'at the end of the road' in Hacklete. Born in Edinburgh, and subsequently training there as a P.E. Teacher, she taught in Edinburgh for 14 years before coming North; and teaching then in rural schools in different parts of Lewis. Tributes from children on her retirement confirm her to have been a loved and respected member of our school communities.

Of Elsa's various loves and involvements, not least that of gardening, we well remember her Bowls Day presence in our community, in the Cafe and at the Bowls....very much loved and respected, and providing 'sparkle', in that particular company.

We want to express to Irene our care and sympathy, and the assurance of our support in all the necessary readjusting for her that Elsa's death has already, and will, involve.

DAVID HARGREAVES

Wednesday 10th February 2021 was a glorious sunny, frosty day but filled with sadness as we laid our friend Dave to rest at the beautiful cemetery in Valtos.

Dave and Janine arrived in Bernera near on 20 years ago, I met them sitting in the boot of their Range Rover having tea on the Kirkibost Pier. I had just come into the pier with the Siarach 11 and was walking up the pier when I met Dave for the first time. I said "hello!" he replied in his Yorkshire accent "we put on tea; do you want a cup?" We chatted for about an hour and by the time I left, it was as though we had known each other for years.

Dave and Janine moved to Kirkibost with their 4 girls (Ruth, Louise, Gillian, and Sally) and built their beautiful house at 17 Kirkibost along with his engineering/fabrication workshop at the Kirkibost pier. I had 4 boats at the time which meant lots of maintenance and problem solving. Thankfully, Dave was there to help, and we very quickly became great friends. Dave and Janine had their own successful haulage company before they came to Bernera. Dave was a brilliant engineer

Welcome to Issue 12 of the Bernera News. We've not quite been going for a year yet, as in the first few months of publishing we produced a smaller newsletter every fortnight, but the time still feels to have flown by.

We hope you're enjoying receiving this newsletter. Don't forget, if you'd rather not receive a paper copy just let us know and we can take you off our mailing list.

In May, we will be producing a bumper issue to celebrate one whole year of the Bernera News. In it we'd like to include as much local content as possible. So, if you have a photo you'd like to share, perhaps a poem that you've written or particularly enjoy, a story you'd like to tell, or anything more we'd love to hear from you.

Also, if you have anything that you'd like us to include, or suggestions on what we might be able to do better, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

We are saddened to hear, once more, of sad passings within the community. Our thoughts go out to those of you affected. We have some lovely in memoriam pieces to share with you in this issue, for some of those who have died, but ask that other family or friends of those recently departed consider sending us something to include in future issues.

We would very much like to ensure that a suitable tribute is paid to each and every one of those no longer with us.

and had many engineering and practical skills which he brought with him to Bernera.

The most memorable thing about Dave was that he always had time to talk to you and have a laugh. If you had a new idea or a problem with something that had to be fixed, he would say.

"come into shed lad, we'll get pot on for tea and get the notepad out and make a plan"

Many a laugh we had in that shed fixing things or just chatting and solving the problems of the world!!

Dave was a great friend who I will sorely miss. He will also be a loss to the Bernera Community, Fishing and Fish Farming industry.

Our sympathy goes out to his wife Janine and daughters Ruth, Louise, Gillian, and Sally for their loss of a Husband, Dad, Grandad, and Father-in-law.

IAIN MACDONALD

IAIN BEAG CHEANN AN THAIB

It was with great sadness after a short illness that we heard of the passing of Iain Macdonald, Bayhead House Tobson.

Iain was well known to all in the community as the local bus operator before his retirement. Iain served in the RAF and after returning to the island had a shop in Stornoway.

He started the local bus service and school run in Bernera, along with working the family croft. Never one to shy away from a challenge, himself and his brother Norman ran the first independent fish farm on the island. Iain, a quiet gentleman with a wealth of knowledge, took to this role with an understanding and a dignified silence, rising to every challenge.

A great inspiration to all of the family, both himself and his brother Norman lived and worked in harmony with a quiet respect for one another and their surroundings.

Two unassuming men, an inspiration as uncles, with a lot of treasured memories at Bayhead House.

We would like to thank everyone in the community who paid their last respects in so many different ways. The minister Reverend Hugh Stewart and Johann, a good neighbour to Norman and Iain, led the service and gave spiritual comfort. Thanks to the local fire brigade for duties in Bosta, and to Mr Macrea and his staff at the undertakers for all their help and support on the day.

A special thank you to all the staff at Dun Eisdan for all the loving care shown to Iain.

From all the family, home and away, many thanks.

Miranda Macdonald

BERNERA DEVELOPMENT TRUST UPDATE

It's been a busy couple of months since the GBCDT AGM in December where John Porteous stepped down from the position of Chair. He has successfully led the group for the last 2 years and the GBCDT thank him for his leadership. His company has extensive experience of developing harbours and pontoons, and was a clear winner of the tender to manage the pontoon scheme at Kirkibost. In order to prevent a conflict of interest he stepped down as a trustee of the group, and in January Anne Ryan was elected chairperson.

Directors Tom Macdonald, Callum Macauley, and Tony Spinks were re-elected at the AGM, and Ella Macauley remains as the young person's representative. Rhiannon Teather has newly joined as a trustee. Norma Macleod was reconfirmed as the minutes secretary. Thanks go to Joan Macauley for her ongoing funding application support.

At the February 18th Meeting, the buyout of the island was again discussed. The GBDT are pursuing a Part 3 Crofting community compulsory purchase as the Part 2 offer has not been successful. A Part 3 purchase has not been successful in Scotland to date, but all avenues are being enthusiastically explored. We are currently working with the Scottish Government to clarify technical details which have come to light.

Funding has been secured to upgrade the toilet facilities at Bosta which will provide hot water, fencing and other modest upgrades which will be very welcome.

The Kirkibost Pontoon development is proceeding according to the original timetable for completion in Summer this year and the GBCDT are currently working with the council to acquire the land for the EV charge points and campervan hookups, and laundry facilities. Asset transfer advice is being given by the Comhairle. The GBCDT should soon be able to purchase the required land to bring the pontoon development to fruition without affecting ongoing fishing and other commercial interests at the pier.

Housing is a priority area and work to identify land for affordable housing is continuing. The GBCDT is aware of land owned by the Free Church of Scotland in Breaclete and their enquiries are ongoing, though prolonged by Covid restrictions and furloughing.

The next GBCDT meeting will be held via Zoom on the 18th March at 7:30 and as always, is open to all residents who are welcome to additionally join as members. Please email trustbernera@hotmail.com for details of the meeting and if you have any questions you can also call Anne Ryan on 07786 963 481.

CORONAVIRUS UPDATE

We are currently under a Tier 4 lockdown after rising cases of the virus within Lewis. It is important that everyone remains vigilant and ensures that all necessary precautions are taken.

NHS Western Isles urge everyone to be vigilant for the three main symptoms (new persistent cough, high temperature, and loss of or change in taste or sense of smell). The local outbreaks also have some different symptoms which include a tickly cough, sore throat, aching muscles, unexplained fatigue or headache.

If you experience any new symptoms please self isolate and seek advice on arranging a test. Contact the Western Isles Covid-19 response team on 01851 601151 or email wi.covid19queries@nhs.scot

In the meantime you are kindly reminded that you should only leave your home for an essential reason. These include:

Shopping for food
Caring for someone
Going to a medical appointment
Visiting someone in an extended household

Doing exercise outside
Getting money from a cash machine
Accessing support

People from different households are not allowed to meet indoors, or in each other's house. Exceptions include essential childcare, those living alone or alone with children, who may form extended households.

1 person can meet 1 other person from another household for sport, work, exercise or leisure as long as it is outdoors, and social distancing is maintained at all times.

Those who are shielding are asked to stay at home as much as possible. You can still go out for exercise and essential shopping or medicines though.

ARE YOU AN UNPAID CARER?

Unpaid Carers include anyone who cares for a friend or family member who, due to old age, physical or mental illness, disability, serious injury, or an addiction, cannot cope without their support. This does not include paid carers, or those who are volunteering. Caring can mean helping with things like shopping, domestic tasks, emotional assistance, and personal care.

Unpaid carers are identified as a priority group for the Covid vaccination. If you are an unpaid carer you are asked to ensure this is registered with your GP surgery as soon as possible, so that you can be invited to attend vaccination appointments when they become available.

FEELING LOW?

Sometimes our thoughts and feelings can overwhelm us to the point where it becomes difficult to cope with everyday life.

You are not alone, and recognising when you need support can be the first step towards good mental health and wellbeing.

Breathing Space is a service from NHS 24 which offers a free, confidential, phone service for anyone in Scotland over the age of 16 experiencing low mood, depression or anxiety.

All calls are free from both landlines and mobiles, and the phone number won't show up on telephone bills. 0800 83 85 87

BE KIND TO YOUR MIND

Are you experiencing emotional distress, or feelings of hopelessness? Do you feel that it's all getting too much?

Are you having difficulties with money, work, housing, or concerned about your own wellbeing and the wellbeing of loved ones?

Are you a parent who is worried about the effect that the coronavirus outbreak is having on your child?

Are you a young person worried about being away from school and friends, or are worried about a family member?

During this uncertain time we are all re-adjusting to new ways of living our lives. It is normal to experience some level of anxiety and stress. Each of us will have different ways of coping, however if you need extra support the Western Isles Psychological Wellbeing Hub offers help to people of all ages living in the Western Isles who may be experiencing distress.

They can offer tips and techniques that can help, and offer guidance and support.

Call on 01851 708022 or 01851 601151. Email at wi.psychologicalsupportforcorona@nhs.scot

DOMESTIC ABUSE ISN'T JUST PHYSICAL. CONTROL ISN'T LOVE.

If you or anyone you know is experiencing domestic abuse or are frightened about a partner or ex-partner, or just need support and information, please contact Western Isles Women's Aid, 53a Bayhead, Stornoway.

They are open Monday to Friday 10am - 5pm. Call 01851 704750 or email office@wiwasty.org

UNUSED LAPTOPS AND TABLETS PLEA

Tech Mobile are asking for those with old, unused laptops and tablets (but preferably functional in a way) to donate them to a project they are currently running. Donated laptops and tablets will be refurbished and given out to those struggling with access to suitable computers for homeschooling.

If you have an old laptop you are willing to donate please get in touch on 01851 700178 or email sales@tech-mobile.co.uk.

Likewise, if you, or someone you know, would benefit from a refurbished laptop or tablet for homeschooling please get in touch with them. This can be done in confidence.

SCAM CALLS

It has been brought to our attention that there have been some scam phone calls made to residents within Bernera recently. One such phone call claimed to be from the technical department at BT saying that there had been a security issue raised with suspicious use of the internet at that property. Luckily the recipient of the call did not believe the caller, but the caller then became quite rude and abusive. A suspicious email was also received at this time, again supposedly from BT. This incident has been reported to BT and is being investigated, but we wanted to make sure that everyone is aware of what to do if you receive an unsolicited phone call.

BT say that it is very unusual for them to contact you out of the blue by phone. If they do call, they will confirm that they are speaking to the account holder, so will ask for a person by name. They advise that you should never give out personal details, without being absolutely certain that the call is from them. You should never allow anyone remote access to your computer. If you are not sure that they are who they say they are, ask them to write to you instead, but do not give them your address. (If they are genuine they will already have access to your address). You could also hang up and call them back on a number you know belongs to them (not one which they give you).

Handling scam calls

- Hang up
- If they claim to be from BT report the call to BT on 0800 661 441
- If you have Call Protect, blacklist the number
- If they claim to be from a respected business, look the business's number up and call back

Handling scam emails

- Don't click links, open attachments or reply
- If it's seemingly from BT, forward as attachment to phishing@bt.com, if not from BT then report@phishing.gov.uk. Then delete the email
- Even real-looking emails may have been spoofed

Handling scam texts

- Don't click on links, reply or text back
- If you can see the number, check whether it's genuine by searching online
- Forward the text to 7726 so that Ofcom can look into it, then delete the text.

PEAT CUTTING DOCUMENTARY

A small production company, based on Lewis, are looking for people who still cut traditionally to tell their stories and allow them to do some filming with you.

For those reluctant to be on camera they would be grateful to those who might allow the filming of their peat stacks. Contact Alison on 07525 211 702 or email alison@elephantshoefilms.co.uk

BERNERA MOVERS

It's nice to see new people moving into the area but often that means we've had to say goodbye to lovely friends who have left. Some people aren't moving far though, like Thelma Carmichael, who has let us know that she recently moved from 5 to 13 Dun Innes. Her telephone number remains the same.

If you're new to the area or indeed are just back after a while away, we welcome you and invite you to get in touch and let us know your news. We'd love to hear from you.

COLOURING IN COMPETITION

We were sent this excellent picture of a Lewis Chessman by our friends at LOOM and thought that we'd run a small competition to go with it. So, if you fancy getting your colouring pens, pencils, or paints out and then sending us your picture (or a photo of your picture) we'd love to see them. A small prize awaits the best colouring from someone 12 and under, and another prize is up for grabs for those aged 12 and over (remember, colouring is for all ages!).

Anyone can enter, so perhaps if you have grandchildren, or nieces and nephews not in Bernera you might like to send them a copy. Entries must be in by 14th March. Send them to us at Croft 22 Kirkibost, take a photo and whatsapp it to 07958 549784 or email them to hello@thedailyceilidh.co.uk

UNSUNG HEROES AND GOOD SAMARITANS OF BERNERA AND TIR MOR

I live in Bannockburn and have been unable to visit my Mum at Benview in Bernera for quite some time now and have no idea when I might be able to. We speak on the phone daily and she tells me everything that's going on. She tells me how you, her friends and neighbors, are making an otherwise unbearable situation so much easier for her. For that my family and I are so very grateful. I'm not going to name names in case I miss someone out but I am going to make a list of just some of the acts of kindness that mean so very much.

Shopping - The weekly "messages", the chemist, the papers, butcher, fish shop, coal & wood and things from the vet.

Lifts - Lifts to and from appointments at Doctors and Hospital.

Gifts - People have brought her soup, cakes, sweets, chocolate and tablet and even a Christmas Hamper.

Prescriptions - Her medication gets collected or brought to her.

DIY - From changing a light bulb to much bigger repair jobs.

Funerals - Simply standing with her as a funeral cortege passes.

Visits - Garden visits and the occasional cup of tea when restrictions allowed.

Phone calls - So important, do not underestimate.

Haircut - Yes she even blagged a haircut. (I'm so jealous).

We have been so impressed by the thoughtfulness and friendship shown to my Mum and we will be forever grateful to the people of Bernera for your support and your time. These have without a doubt been tough times but the true compassion and community spirit in Bernera deserves to be celebrated. On an individual level you have said "It's nothing, don't thank us, It's no big deal". But it is a Big Deal, you are all wonderful and I cannot tell you how much it means to us.

Take care of yourselves and each other and stay safe. Thank You , Christine Jaffray and family

BERNERA BAKES... LEEK & POTATO PIE

Ingredients:

500g leeks
750g potatoes
40g butter
25g plain flour
300ml warm milk
pinch of nutmeg
salt & black pepper
50g cheddar cheese, grated

Method:

Trim leeks and slice thickly and wash. Cook in boiling salted water for 8-10 min until almost tender. Drain thoroughly, reserving the stock.

Boil the potatoes in salted water for 20-25 min until tender & drain.

Melt 25g of butter gently in a small saucepan, sprinkle in flour and stir over a low heat for 2 mins until straw coloured.

Remove from heat and gradually stir in all but 2 tablespoons of the milk, then return to the heat and simmer, stirring until thick and smooth. Stir 150ml of the leek stock gradually into the white sauce. Bring back to boil, stirring constantly, add nutmeg, salt and pepper to taste. Remove from heat.

Heat the oven to 190C.

Slice 1/3 of the potatoes and stir gently into leeks and turn into a greased ovenproof dish. Pour on the sauce. Carefully turn with a fork to coat thoroughly.

Add remaining butter and milk to the rest of the potatoes. Season, then mash until smooth, beat in half the cheese.

Spread the mash over the vegetables then sprinkle with the rest of the cheese.

Bake in oven for 20-25 mins until the topping is golden brown. Serve hot.

ON THE SOFA... KATE MACLEOD

media is awash with images of swimsuit and wetsuit clad swimmers of all ages taking a chilly dip in cold open waters, salt or fresh.

I'm more interested in exploring beneath the waves. Nothing can keep me away from the sea: even on days when it's gusting 70mph+, I'll be at Reef Beach, soaking up the atmosphere and the amazing colours that come with 'bad' weather, both above the sea's surface and below!

Our society and culture equate winter with darkness, sadness, cold and loneliness, but to me it's just as beautiful and inspirational as Hebridean summers. Yes it's cold and dark, but it's raw and powerful and peaceful, even if there's a gale blowing. My passion for the outdoors and specifically the ocean hasn't faded with time, and I have now completed an exciting new 4-part series called 'Miann na Maighdinn-mara' or Mermaid Tales. The series explores the Uig coastline from North to South, and follows my journey as I experience some new and amazing adventures like kayaking with seals and open water (middle of the sea) swimming! Along the way I learn about Uig's incredible history from some of the most knowledgeable locals, and start to see our beautiful island in a new way. The project has been an absolute dream to work on, and I really hope I've done justice to our wonderful island, and shown its beauty from a different perspective.

The first episode of Miann na Maighdinn-mara will be airing on BBC ALBA on Tuesday, 16th March at 8:30pm, and weekly after that.

Hallo, is mise Kate NicLeòid agus is ann à sgìre àlainn Ùig a tha mi ann an Eilean Leòdhais. Bha mi glè òg nuair a' thòisich mi a' snàmh 's a mhuir, agus tha mi fhathast a' dol ann cho tric 's urrainn dhomh!

Wild Water swimming has become the "in thing", with one research study suggesting an almost 300% increase in popularity in the last year. Social

YOUNG ISLANDER'S CHALLENGE

Working in partnership with the Scottish Government and the National Islands Plan, we want to understand what it's like to live and grow up in our island communities from the people who know best – you!

We want to know your views on topics that matter to your life like:

What are the issues that affect your life? What is good about your island community?

What could be better about your island community? What would you change if you could?

What would you like to see the Young Islander's Network do and/or achieve?

In addition to understanding young people's views, we are going to provide training and support to young people and will work with young people and community-based youth groups to establish a Young Islander's Network.

At this stage, we are opening for pre-registration to the project and will get things really moving early 2021. If this all sounds like you or young people you work with, check out the link below and pre-register to take part – it's even FREE!

Visit <https://youthscotland.org.uk/programmes/young-islanders-challenge/> to find out more.

THE STORY OF THE BERNERA RIOT - PART 2

Word of these happenings reached Bernera and whilst Angus was languishing in prison for his part in the fracas, Donald MacDonald "Dan" of 25 Valasay took it upon himself to go from house to house raising the people of Bernera. He is said to have told a man from Bosta:

"Bi 'n-àird, tha thusa gle bhlàth agus comhfhurtail ann an sinn 's do nàbaidh air leacan fuara ann am prìosan Steòrnabhaigh". ("Get up, you're warm and comfortable there and your neighbour is on cold slabs in Stornoway Prison.")

He sent boats to Carloway and Uig to muster more men until finally about 150 men were congregated at Garynahine. The piper, Iain MacIannan 'Iain an Dròbhair' from Kneep in Uig kept the group's enthusiasm alive during the long march to Stornoway.

Word of the imminent onslaught had reached the Stornoway police station so Angus was cleaned-up, dressed in new clothes and released in the hope of stopping the marchers. The Procurator Fiscal, the Sheriff-Clerk and all the policemen in Stornoway led by Superintendent Donald Cameron met the mini-army at Manor Farm. He advised them to return home promising them that they would correct all the wrongs if they did. There were murmurings amongst the Bernera men for a while then Dan raised his voice saying:

"The police had many years to correct the wrongs and didn't do it, they won't do it now either, they don't have the authority."

With these words they marched into Stornoway. They spent that night at Goathill and the following morning they made their way to the castle to meet with Sir James Matheson, the proprietor of Lewis, to air their grievances. They were determined to put their grievances to him in person. This was achieved and Sir James professed ignorance of what was being done in his name and promised to look into the whole affair. The men returned home with high hopes of justice.

A few weeks later three Bernera men; Angus Macdonald, Norman Macaulay (both of Tobson) and Iain Macleod of Breacleite received summonses to appear in court to be charged with assault of Colin MacIannan, the Sheriff Officer. The case was heard on July 17th 1874.

The defence lawyer was Charles Innes of Inverness, after whom Dun Innes is named. Due to his brilliant defence and adroit questioning, in a trial that lasted until 10.00 pm, a 'not guilty' verdict was passed.

Donald Munro, the Chamberlain of Lewis at the time and the instigator of the above dealings with the Bernera crofters, was heartily disliked and feared throughout the whole island for his many tyrannical acts. This trial proved to be his downfall. He lost his many offices and died a pauper. Stories are still told of his many acts of petty tyranny, and his ignominious end is considered to be part of the justice secured at the trial.

This was the first rising by crofters in Scotland standing up for their rights and led to the eventual passing of the Crofters Act of 1886.

The Bernera Riot is today commemorated by a cairn built of stones from every croft on Bernera and capped by stones from the crofts of the three men who stood trial.

The full trial report can be read in Bernera Museum.

TAKING FOR GRANTED!

During our current pandemic, a sense of nostalgia has developed for many of us over how we remember our lives last year.

Do you remember how things were last February 2020?Going into the supermarket without a mask? Going to the airport, then hopping aboard a plane and 50 minutes later arriving in Glasgow? responding to a friend's call to come over for a good ceilidh, or simply for everyone and his dog to come together to watch the big match or the latest blockbuster movie on Sky?

A characteristic common to all these reminiscences is the word 'freedom'. We had the freedom without a second thought to do, within reason, what we wanted, when we wanted, with whom we wanted and how we wanted.

As the Gaelic phrase says, "Nach oirne a thàinig an dà lathà! Literally, translated into English: "Isn't it on us the two days have come". A wise saying indicating a complete change of circumstance being experienced across a distinct period.

For many of us, if we were to be honest, we would acknowledge how much we took our freedoms for granted. As if somehow or other we were deserving of them; ignorant of the privilege and blessing of which we were recipients of. In a nutshell, taking everything for granted.

This happens within families as well when the bedrock foundation of our families are removed: father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, nephew, niece. It was not that we did not love them dearly, but we did not fully understand the debt we will forever owe them - for their love, their care, their wisdom, their humour, until they were taken from us.

All along, and perhaps unbeknown to us, they were divine gifts. For a time, given by God to bless us through. A time where our lives were enriched immeasurably. Their presence and love blessing us selflessly, continuously, and zealously. Let us, therefore, remember that 'every good gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, and comes down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow of turning with us', James. 1:1.

And in remembering let us be thankful to God for all those special people in our families, our workplaces, our communities, that God has blessed us with. Committing ourselves not to take these divine gifts for granted, or the Creator who made them.

Count your blessings
Name them one by one
Count your blessings
See what God has done
